Welcome to National Capital Region Medical and Fort Belvoir Community Hospital!

With this Warrior & Family Quick Reference Guide, our goal is to provide important information as you prepare for your arrival at Fort Belvoir Community Hospital. We realize how important it is for you to care for your Warrior at the bedside without excessive worry about administrative matters. Our team is prepared to assist you in any way we can to make your stay as comfortable as possible. Our goal is to provide an optimal healing environment and a team of professionals who deliver excellent, efficient, patient-centered care to Warriors and their families.

Warrior care is the ultimate goal of our efforts in creating a healing environment — one that is safe, comfortable, and that supports the service member and family. We are committed to partnering with our patients and their family members to create evidence-based world-class health care in the NCR that is surrounded by a Culture of Excellence while providing a warm family-friendly atmosphere. Expert, excellent, exceptional care is the expectation.

This guide provides information about the hospital, services offered on Fort Belvoir, lodging, transportation and more to assist you during your stay in the National Capital Region. If you need additional information, please contact the Warrior Family Coordination Center. The WFCC works directly for the commander and will provide information and services you may require. Please do not hesitate to contact them 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 571.232.7034.

We thank you for your service and sacrifice to our great nation and we welcome you into the NCR Medical Directorate and Fort Belvoir Community Hospital Family.

6.1 Warrior Family Coordination Center

The Warrior Family Coordination Center provides a centralized, coordinated operational platform within Fort Belvoir Community Hospital and the service's Wounded, Ill and Injured programs to optimize a healing environment for recovering Warriors and their families.

We believe your care is impacted not only by your medical team, but also by the relationship this team has with your family and friends. The Warrior Family Coordination Center seeks to provide a patient- and family-centered care approach, where you and your loved ones are partners in your medical care. If you have a concern or unmet needs, please contact the W FCC staff 24 hours a day, seven days a week, using the contact information shown at left.

6.2 Soldier Family Assistance Center

The Soldier Family Assistance Center provides tailored, compassionate and coordinated services to our Warriors in Transition, retirees, and family members. SFAC assists Warriors with navigating and accessing critical services expeditiously, so they can focus on their primary mission of healing.

6.3 American Red Cross

American Red Cross support activities include emergency financial assistance; emergency message communication; personal hygiene products; reading materials; recreational activities, snacks and more.

6.4 USO Warrior & Family Center

The USO Warrior & Family Center is the largest USO ever built and also the first of its kind: a place designed for wounded, ill and injured troops, their family members and caregivers. The center gives Warriors and their families access to state-of-the-art, ADA-compliant spaces to relax, have fun and learn. Some of the center amenities include:

- Kitchen, outdoor grill, dining room and fireside lounge
- Sports lounge and golf simulator
- Game room which includes pool, poker, Xbox 360 and games
- Healing gardens
- Theater, satellite television, DVD movies
- Music room and art studio
- Free WiFi and wired Internet access
- Fully-equipped computer stations

7.1 Power of Attorney

A Power of Attorney, or POA, is a powerful document that allows you (the "principal") to authorize an agent (the "attorney-in-fact") to conduct certain business on your behalf. It is one of the strongest legal documents that can be given to another person. It should only be given to a trustworthy person, and only when absolutely necessary. The Fort Belvoir Legal Assistance office can advise you about, and help you prepare for the appropriate POA. Contact information for the Legal Assistance Office is included at left.

Legal Assistance

7.2 POA Types

There are two POA types dealing with non-health care matters; “general” and “special” (or limited).

- A General POA gives an agent very broad a power to act on another person’s behalf; and
- A Special POA limits the agent’s authority to act only on certain matters. Every act performed by an agent within the authority of the POA is legally binding upon the principal.

In addition, there is a special kind of durable POA for dealing with health care matters, called a Health Care Power of Attorney, or HCPA.

- An HCPA deals with health care planning. You appoint someone else to make health care decisions, including, if desired, the decision to refuse intravenous feeding or turn off the respirator if you are brain-dead (if you become incapable of making that decision). The form can be used to make decisions about things like nursing homes, surgeries, and artificial feeding. Since it is impossible to predict every possible contingency in an advance medical directive, having both a living will and a HCPA enables you to handle other kinds of disability, or gray-area cases where it’s not certain that you are terminally ill.

Wounded Warrior Service Programs

Air Force Wounded Warrior
Program
woundedwarrior.af.mil

9.1 Air Force

The Air Force Warrior and Survivor Care program is a multifaceted support system that leverages existing programs and includes assignment of a Recovery Care Coordinator through all phases of recovery, rehabilitation, and the reintegration process. It includes all non-clinical support to seriously Wounded, Ill and Injured Airmen and their families. It provides policy and oversight for the Air Force Wounded Warrior — AFW2 — program, the Recovery Care Program, the Casualty Services Program and the Air Force Survivor Assistance Program.

The AFW2 program, located at Headquarters Air Force Personnel Center on Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio, TX, provides individualized support to those severely wounded in overseas contingency operations. An AFW2 is an Airman who has a combat-related injury or illness requiring long-term care that will require a Medical Evaluation Board or Physical Evaluation Board to determine fitness for duty.

9.2 Army

Warrior Transition Units are located at major military treatment facilities around the world. WTUs provide personal support to wounded Soldiers who require at least six months of rehabilitative care and complex medical management.

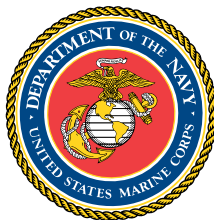

The Warrior Transition Brigade is the Warrior Transition Unit responsible for the care and transition of Warriors receiving care at Fort Belvoir Community Hospital.

The Army Wounded Warrior Program, or AW2, assists and supports the most severely wounded, ill and injured Soldiers and veterans who suffer from injuries or illness incurred in the line of duty after Sept. 10, 2001 in support of overseas contingency operations since 9/11. AW2 supports Soldiers and their families wherever they are located, regardless of military status, throughout their recovery and transition, even into Veteran status.

9.3 Marine Corps

The Wounded Warrior Regiment provides and facilitates non-medical care to combat and non-combat wounded, ill and injured Marines, and Sailors attached to or in direct support of Marine units, and their family members in order to assist them as they return to duty or transition to civilian life. The Wounded Warrior Regiment serves the total force — active-duty, reserve, and veteran Marines.

The Regimental Headquarters element located in Quantico, Va., commands the operations of two Wounded Warrior Battalions located at Camp Pendleton and Camp Lejeune, and multiple detachments in locations around the world. Marines at Fort Belvoir Community Hospital are supported by the Marine Corps Liaison Office, which is an element of the Wounded Warrior Battalion – Detachment Bethesda.

The District Injured Support Cells are integral part to the Wounded Warrior Regiment support structure. DISCs are mobilized reserve Marines who are located throughout the country to conduct face-to-face visits and telephone outreach with wounded, ill, and injured Marines and their families who are recovering within their assigned region. For Marines who move to veteran status and require continued transition support, Recovery Care Coordinators will coordinate the transfer of their case to the DISCs who have access to Wounded Warrior Regiment support assets.

15.0 Finding Your Way

15.1 Colors & Themes

Finding your way in Fort Belvoir Community Hospital is simple, thanks to a wayfinding system designed with our patients in mind. Each building and outlying clinic is identified by a unique nature- or patriotic-themed logo and color, shown here:

Pavilions

Outlying Clinics

To locate a clinic or department, simply use the location information provided in the hospital directory in section 16.0 of this booklet. In the hospital, you'll be able to use directories along with the directional signs which use the logos and colors shown above. The information in the directory provides the location, and signs throughout the hospital will guide you there using the logos and colors shown above.

Finding Your Way

15.2 Clinic & Department Identification

The location of clinics and departments is identified by building, floor number, and reception or room number. For example, the location of Family Medicine is listed as “Eagle Pavilion, Floor 1, Reception 2.” Patients going to Family Medicine would simply follow directional signs throughout the hospital to Eagle Pavilion, and then use easily identifiable signs within Eagle Pavilion to find the clinic.

If you’ve been provided with a room number, once again using Eagle Pavilion as an example, simply follow the building and floor signs, and then look for the specific room sign.

Please let us know if you need assistance finding your way in the hospital. Our Ambassadors and Information Desk staff are available to provide personal assistance at each main entrance, and we invite you to request assistance from any staff member at any time. The phone numbers for each clinic are included on the directory in this booklet as well — please use them to reach the clinics for additional personal assistance.

A hospital campus map is also available in section 17.0 of this booklet. This map provides an overview of the main campus, along with the locations of the Warrior Pavilion, Intrepid Pavilion (NICoE Satellite), Fisher House and more.

20.0 Public Transportation

Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority
wmata.com

20.1 Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority

WMATA, commonly referred to as the Metro, is the largest public transit provider for the National Capital Region, providing service to residents and visitors. Metro operates the second largest bus network and fifth largest paratransit service in the United States. The buses, trains, and facilities are all equipped and ready to serve customers with disabilities. To plan a trip on Metro, visit the website shown at left.

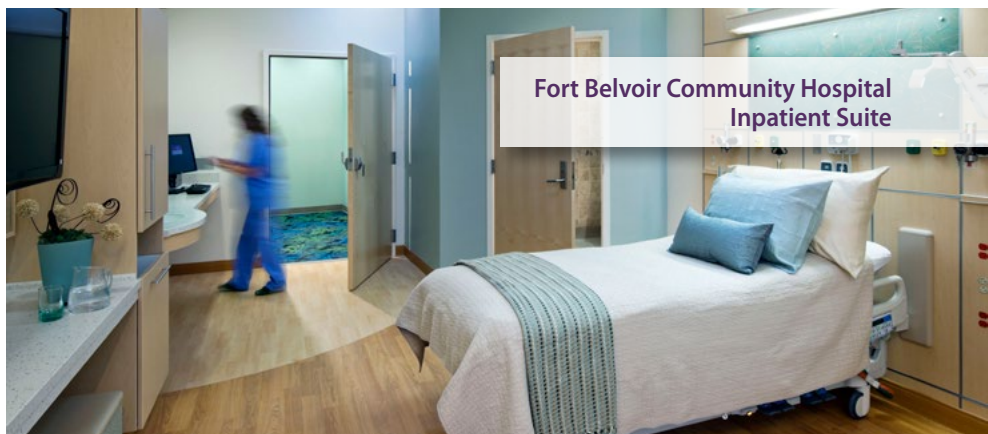

Closest Station to Fort Belvoir

Franconia-Springfield Station, part of the Blue Line, is the closest station to Fort Belvoir. Visitors arriving or departing at Franconia-Springfield Station who would like transportation directly to or from Fort Belvoir should take the Fairfax Connector Route 335 bus — Eagle Express — for weekday service.

Closest Station to Walter Reed

20.2 Richmond Highway Express

Richmond Highway Express, or REX, is a Metro bus service which drops off and picks up directly in front of Fort Belvoir Community Hospital. The route runs from the King Street, Eisenhower Avenue and Huntington Metro stations, south to Fort Belvoir. These stations are the three southernmost stops on the Metro Yellow Line. A REX route map can be downloaded on the Metro website at wmata.com.

20.3 Fairfax Connector

The Fairfax Connector is a bus service which drops off and picks up directly behind Fort Belvoir Community Hospital, in addition to offering routes which run throughout Fairfax County.

Visitors arriving or departing at the Franconia-Springfield Metro Station should use the Fairfax Connector Route 335 bus — Eagle Express — for weekday service to and from Fort Belvoir. To plan a trip using Fairfax Connector buses, call 703.339.7200, use the Metro Trip Planner at wmata.com, or visit the Fairfax Connector website shown at left.

Commitment To Excellence

24.1 Healthcare Quality & Safety

Fort Belvoir Community Hospital has earned The Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval.

The Joint Commission is an independent, not-for-profit organization which sets the standards by which healthcare quality is measured in America and around the world, and evaluates the quality and safety of care for more than 15,000 healthcare organizations.

Approximately 80 percent of the nation's hospitals are currently accredited by The Joint Commission.

To maintain and earn accreditation, organizations must have an extensive on-site review by a team of The Joint Commission healthcare professionals, at least once every three years. The purpose of the review is to evaluate the organization's performance in areas which affect patient care. Accreditation may then be awarded based on how well the organization met The Joint Commission standards. This on-site review at Fort Belvoir Community Hospital took place in March 2012.

The Joint Commission standards address the hospital's performance in specific areas, and specify requirements to ensure that patient care is provided in a safe manner and in a secure environment.

Patients with patient care and safety concerns which have not been addressed by the hospital may contact The Joint Commission by calling 800.994.6610.
